summer . . . empty halls.

fall . . . eager students.

winter . . . boredom strikes.

Just as the year changes from season to season so does the individual change from one season to another in his lifetime.

We as young adults, are in our spring season and high school provides us with the elements of spring; discovery, growth, and inspiration. In this season of our lives we are growing and maturing to take on the responsibilities of adults. We are discovering and learning many things which we will use in the future. And we are inspired by our own fresh ideas brought to us by the learning experiences we have gained in high school.

Every year has four seasons—in these four seasons we as youths express ourselves in these ways. . . .

spring . . . students skip.

SUMMER IS . . .

 Its minutes are unfolding
 Like petals of a flower.
 As a ray of sunshine
 Through a darkened place,
 Live life with a sparkle
 And show it in your face.

FALL IS . . .

. . . placid.

Fall is elusive,
secretive, shy;
Fall is a crispness

AGILITY WAS ONE of the many talents the senior class officers proved they had. Right to left; Helen Bastian; secretary, Jeff Venn; president and Dave Woods; vice president.

As freshmen we were in the spring of our high school life, everything was new and fresh. As sophomores we were in our summer, in that everything was carefree and nothing could bother us. Then as juniors we found ourselves in the fall of our high school career, our minds were fresh with the memories of our first two years and full with prospects of our upcoming final year. Finally as seniors we could be compared to the winter season, our high school days were done and everything was coming to an end. But we, as seniors, did not look at it this way for, as always, after winter, comes another spring, and to us graduation did not mean the end but rather the beginning of a whole new future. From our gains in high school, our knowledge, our experience, our memories, we set forth with determination to conquer our goals. Looking back over our past years we find that our freshman year began with the election of Tom Atkins as our class president, Dave Reed as vice president, and Nikki Fisher as secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Lewis and Mr. Schufelt were our class sponsors and representing the freshman class on the Homecoming Court was Nikki Fisher while Curt Francisco was chosen as her escort. Working at the "Puffball" during football and track season, with the guidance of our sponsor Mr. Gilchrist, and winning the tug-of-war during Homecoming week were the two highlights of our sophomore year. Our class officers were; Jeff Venn; president, Sally Johnson; vice president, and Judy Noreyko; secretary-treasurer. Ellen Eckloff was our attendant on the queen's court and Dave Reed was elected as her escort. Launching off our junior year with the election of all female class officers we chose Helen Bastian; president, Judy Noreyko; vice president and Cindy Rutherford; secretary-treasurer, while Mrs. Storr and Mr. Avery served as our class sponsors. After a very spirited campaign for Student Council officers, Dave Reed, Jeff Venn, and Betsy Huggett brought honors to our class by serving as president, vice president and secretary, respectively, of the Student Council. Our chief financial project of the year was our magazine sale although selling candy in the winter helped to pay for our presentation of "Romana Saturnala," our memorable J-Hop. Our junior play, Charley's Aunt was an unforgettable comedy as well as a huge success. Ann Mosier was chosen as our attendant for queen's court and Jeff Venn was elected as escort. Filled with sadness of leaving our school and with dreams of the future, we began our senior year. Mr. Wouri and Miss Hall guided us through our numerous activities, while serving as class officers were; Jeff Venn; president, Dave Woods; vice president, and Helen Bastian; secretary-treasurer. Student Council offices were once again dominated by the class of '67 as Dave Reed was elected president, Betsy Huggett was elected vice president and John Schneider served as parliamentarian. Ellen Eckloff was chosen to reign over Homecoming and Jeff Venn was chosen as her escort. Betsy Huggett represented the senior class on the court with Dave Reed as her escort. Our exchange student, Henrik Schmidt, better known as Hank, came to us from Denmark. Other memorable events included our senior play—Flight Into Danger, Twirp Season, the J-Hop, our class night with the theme of Seniors Spring Around the World, awards night, Baccalaureate, and, finally . . . Graduation.

Spring began our school year with many fine teachers returning to M.H.S. In addition to these, there were also many "new arrivals." We knew we could look forward to another year with excellent guidance. As the season changed to fall, we found our teachers busy with clubs which they had taken the time to sponsor. Even though teachers were busy making out grades, our clubs were still going strong with the faculty leading the way. The winter was a time of work and decision. Semester exams were coming up and many times teachers were found helping a student with his or her particular problem. Decisions as to courses of study and colleges for the following year needed to be made for the seniors who were planning to go on to college. Teachers were a great help with this. Many happy memories of our faculty, as teachers and as friends, follow us through our summer until September arrives again.

A new system of counseling was put into effect this year. Students had two personal interviews with their counselor. The purpose of the interview was to give the students background information. To allow the counselors the time they needed for this program, a new secretary was added to the staff. It was her responsibility to take care of attendance and to do all the paper work for the counselors. Through this, Marshall High was able to achieve a more efficient counseling system.

Miss Merritt, head of the English Department, and her fellow teachers worked on a revision of a course of studies including the seventh through the twelfth grades. Particular emphasis was put on a program in which writing would be developed from the junior high level upward. The English staff got together and composed book lists that were designed for each grade level. Library books were available for each class level. By this new method, the teachers hoped to give students a more organized plan of study with less duplication.

For the first time in its history, Marshall High School offered a five-year sequence of courses in mathematics. Advanced Biology Enhances Science Curriculum

Under the able leadership of Mr. Cairns, head of the Science Department, M.H.S. has again enhanced its curriculum by the addition of an Advanced Biology Program. Enriched by the use of written laboratory reports, the Chemistry Program was so designed that its new approach to laboratory work would better prepare the students for individual thinking. The Physics, Chemistry, Biology, and General Science Programs were studied in order to bring about curriculum changes, warranted by the explosion of knowledge in these fields.

Students Given "The Business"

The business department of Marshall High School enlightened its students in the basic skills of the business world. Their training consisted of work in typing, general business, shorthand, and accounting. The office machines class gave students instruction in the use and skills of different machines. These talents proved useful in the securing of jobs and also made more job choices available.

The Social Studies Department, under the able leadership of Mr. Roy, was aimed at giving the students a more rounded education and a greater understanding of the history of the world and the United States, our role in the world, our governmental system, and our foreign policy and its effect on the other countries of the world. This department was one of the largest in the school system; it reached students from the seventh-grade level through their senior year.

Some of the various medias worked on this year were: drawing, clay, commercial art, plaster, and collages. They also introduced the history of art through movies and lectures. Their goals were not to make commercial artists of the students but to help them as creative individuals to see and become aware of their surroundings.

Sports

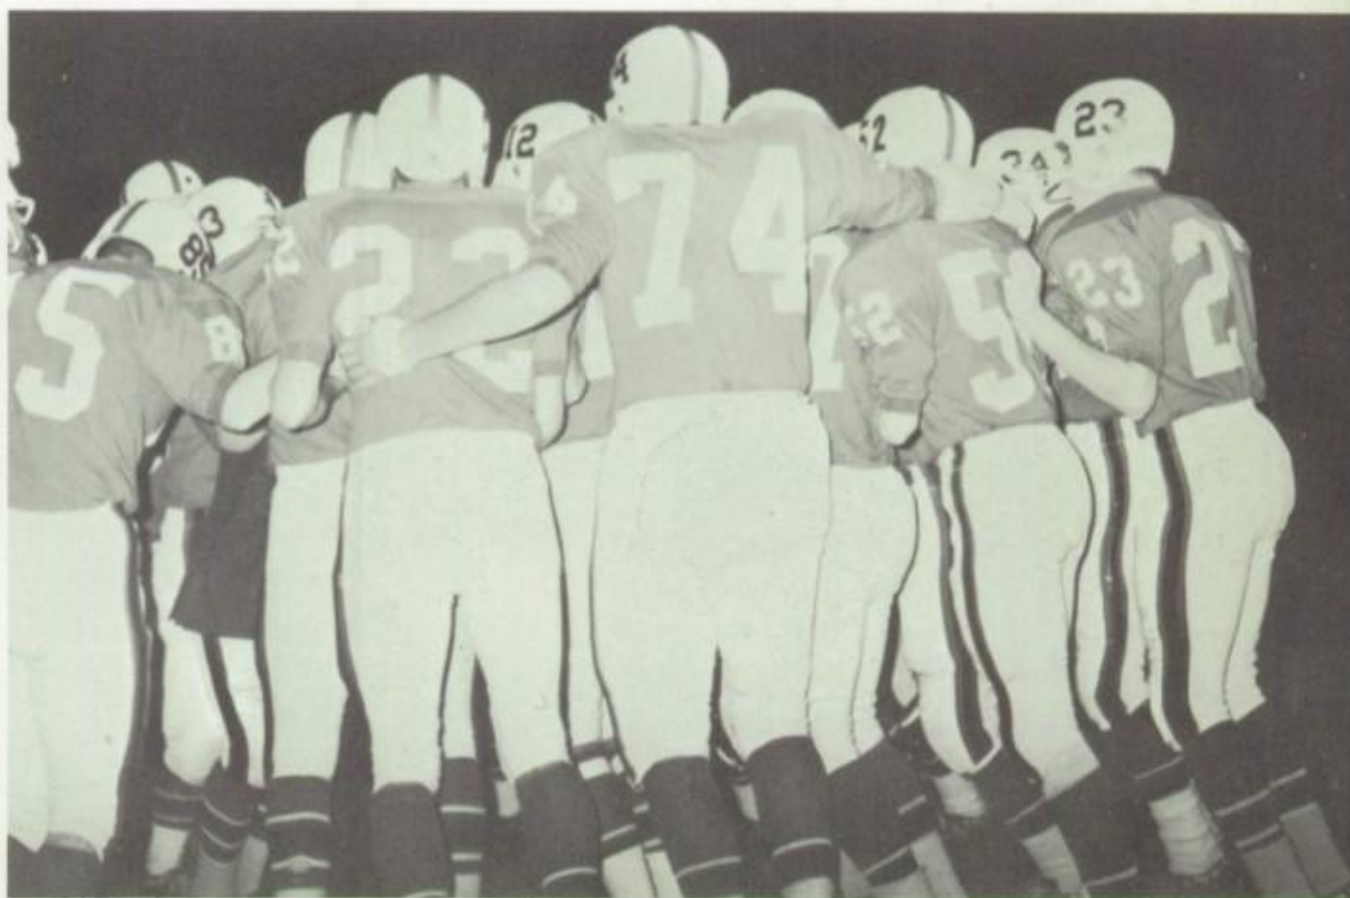

Are . . .

. . . suspense in the fourth quarter.

. . . pride in your fellow teammates.

. . . teamwork.

Sports are teamwork, victory, failure, spirit and many things not only to the boys participating but also to the coaches, the spectators and the whole student body. As the teams competed against one another for championships, so did the students vie for the title along with their players. The boys who were on our athletic teams counted on the students for their spirit and support. The enthusiasm to win could be witnessed at the field, in the gym and at pep assemblies with our energetic cheerleaders leading the cheers. Our teams have made M.H.S. students proud of them this past year.

Twin Valley Champs

For the fifth straight year the Marshall Redskins baseball team won the Twin Valley championship. This was the ninth title won since 1949 under the coaching of Mr. Joe Cooper. Coach Cooper has had a total of 219 victories and only 84 losses.

Mr. Cooper was assisted by Mr. Ivan Fleser who gave special guidance to the pitchers.

Players given all conference recognition were: John Ramos, Larry Taylor, Harry Crandall, and John Schneider.

MHS Has Another

This year MHS had another successful football season with a total of five wins and three losses. Hard, quick hitting was the motto of the team. This year the coaches used two different captains for each game, with the election of two honorary captains at the end of the season. Again this year, the coaches awarded a star to the offensive and defensive players of the week, and a star for a recovered fumble, an intercepted pass, or for blocking a punt.

The team honored the fathers on dad's night with a victory over Pennfield.

JV Coaches Bach and Fitch.

The Junior Varsity Football team finished the season with a one and five won-lost record. The team improved steadily over the season despite a number of injuries. They defeated Coldwater in the fifth game and lost the final game to Pennfield by a last minute touchdown in a well-fought game. The Junior Varsity gained much experience and should be able to help the Varsity out next year.

Freshmen Learn Basic Skills.

Coach O'Dell.

The Freshman football team finished the season with a two win, four loss record. The frosh won their first two games. Being the first year of organized football, the main goal of the coaches was to teach the boys the basic skills. The team is looking forward to next year when they can add a little polish to their game.

Cross Country

The Marshall High Cross Country team, led by Coach Bill Mack, finished the season with a 3 won—4 lost record in Dual Meets. They finished third at the conference meet, and eighth in the Greyhound Invitational, the Albion Invitational and the Sturgis Invitational. Bart Cook and Russ Pryor qualified for the State Individual Meet.

Bob Currie practices diligently, but takes time out for a smile.

NOON HOUR BASKETBALL tournament action.

VOLLEYBALL HAS ITS awkward moments.

Intermural Sports

Many students took part in this year's noon hour activities. Under the guidance of Coach Kline the students participated in many sports. In the fall there was a horse shoe pitching tournament. During the winter months a basketball schedule was set up with teams from both the junior and senior high school. The balconys were also open with pingpong tables set up. Music was played for those individuals who felt like dancing. In the spring volleyball teams consisting of 4 boys and 4 girls played in a noon hour tournament.

HORSESHOE TOURNAMENT WINNERS.

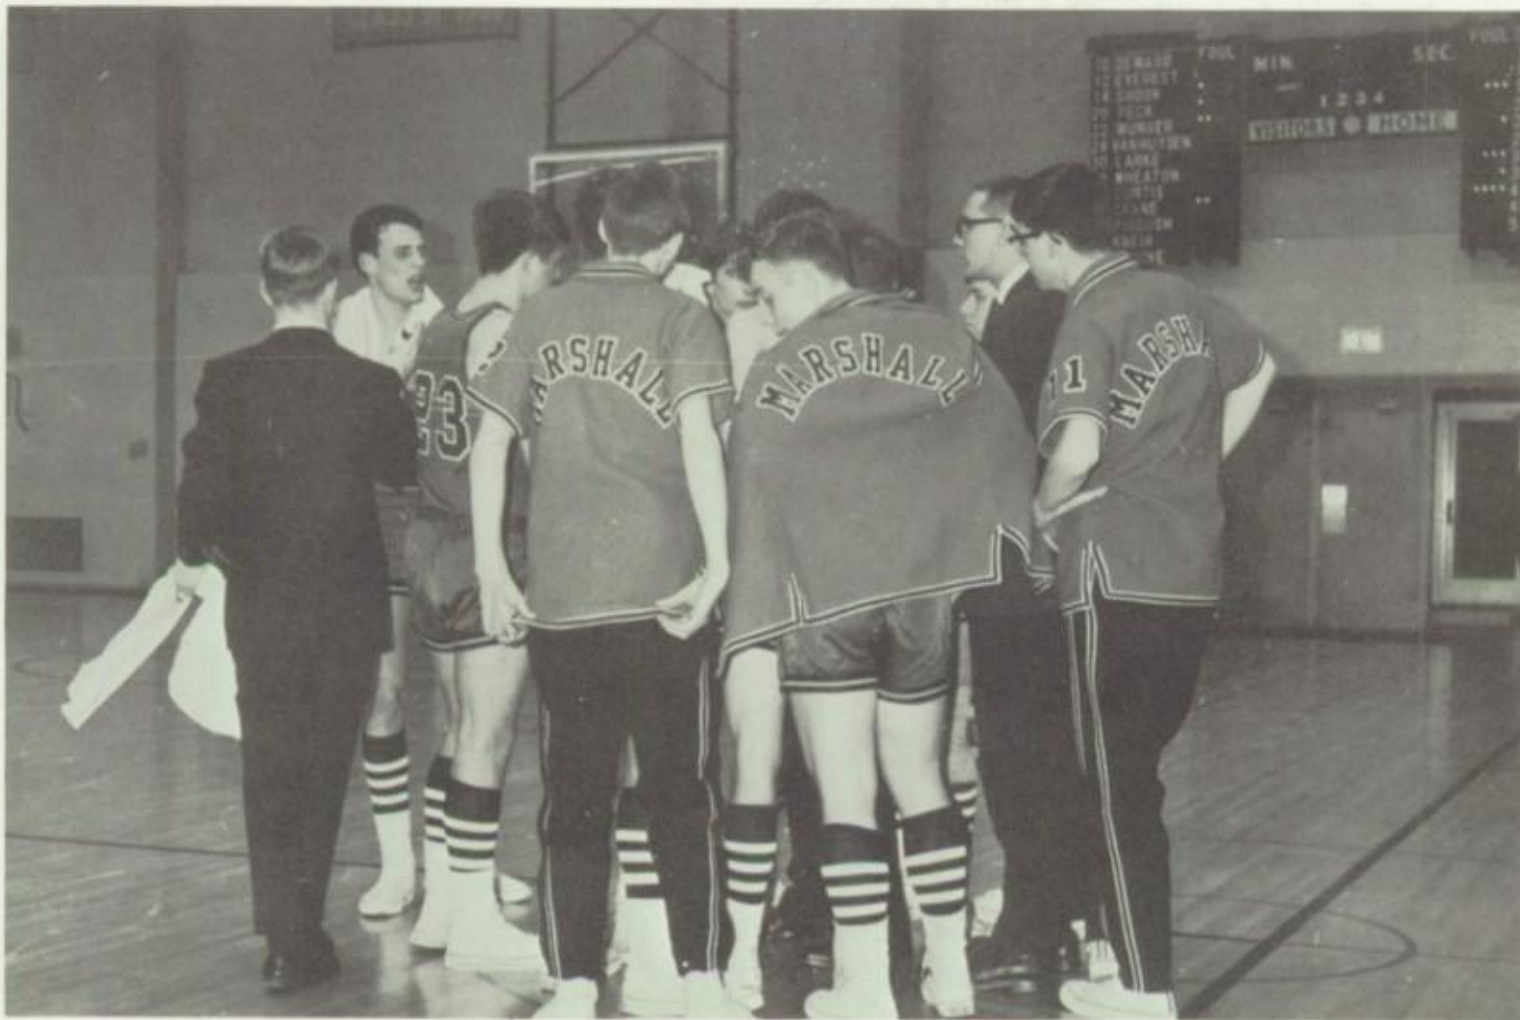

The Marshall Redskin Basketball Team finished the 1966-67 season with a 7 win 9 loss record. The team had trouble all year with hot and cold spells during the course of the game. This was the major cause of most losses including the tournament loss to Albion. The team got much support from the fans. Coach VanderGeest had six returning senior lettermen, while the rest of the team consisted of juniors.

Frosh Hoop It Up

This years Freshmen basketball team under the direction of Coach Eckert finished the season with 10 wins and 7 loses.

This fine record shows the feeling of desire and determination by the entire team throughout the season. They are hoping for an even more successful season next year as JV's.

Tennis

The tennis team under the direction of Coach O'Dell finished the season most successfully with a victory in the Regional Meet. This was the first trophy ever won by the Marshall tennis team. The team hopes to have another successful season this year with many returning lettermen.

Standing: Coach VanderGeest, Steve Martin, Paul Mestemaker, John Martin, Bill Bosserd. Kneeling: John Gladstone, Dave Soebbing, Dave Harrington.

John Martin tees up another successful season.

Golf

Marshall's golf team, under the assistance of Coach Don VanderGeest, looks forward to a "swingin' season" in 1967. Aided by the experience of five returning lettermen, the team will start the season with high hopes after finishing in fifth place last year.

Faces Of Our School Spirit . . .

The cheerleaders, under the leadership of their new sponsor, Miss Smith, acquired new ideas and new uniforms this year. They attended a cheerleading clinic at Godwin Heights and received instruction from college cheerleaders. After sponsoring two dances featuring bands the cheerleaders made enough money to purchase new skirts and emblems. To continue their career as a group they sang a medley of songs at the Senior Class Night.

The Cheerleaders promoted spirit during games, pep assemblies, and on the buses en route to the games spurring the teams on to victory.

"SLY"

Underclassmen are expressive—throughout the four seasons of every year they grow, change and learn to express themselves in new ways. Every season has its activities and students learn to express themselves through the years in these activities. Spring, summer, fall, winter . . . junior high, freshmen, sophomores, juniors—a year evolves; a life matures. Our student body consists of eager, intelligent and expressive youths and our future depends on these youths. We know they will not fail us because a bright future depends on a bright generation, and we have both.

J-Hop Highlights Juniors' Year

This year the Juniors won float competition during Homecoming festivities for having the best float. Their big money making projects were the magazine sale in the fall and the candy sale in the winter. In the spring they were busy practicing for and putting on their play, "You Can't Take It With You." Their big event was putting on the annual J-Hop for the graduating class of 1967.

"It was a very good year," seemed to have been the song in many sophomore's hearts. Having a very successful Puffball might have been one reason. They worked hard keeping the fans well supplied with warm drinks and "goodies" and their profits proved it. Learning to work with each other was a very important lesson which the sophomores seemed to gain from this experience. In the spring they chose their class rings which they will receive in the fall. All in all, their year proved to be rewarding not only in scholastics but in friendships, too.

Freshmen

"Spring" Into High School

Freshmen, easily spotted because of their eagerness and enthusiasm for high school life, found it challenging to adjust to the hectic life of the high school student. For the "Frosh" it was their first formal, their first chance to participate in the Homecoming activities and build a float to enter in the parade, their first chance to take part in all of the high school sports, and their first chance to really feel a part of the high school and all that takes place within it. Their money making project was selling tickets to the Marshall Relays in the Spring. Being freshmen was a challenge to them but an enjoyable one.

Junior High

MERIDITH WRIGHT STOPS long enough to get a clear view of campus "excitement."

Competes

Gradually the Junior High became acquainted with the activities they will later participate in during their high school years. They were able to have a Student Council, seventh and eighth grade basketball teams, and were permitted for the first time to participate in class competition during the pep assemblies. They began earning their funds for high school by having their annual magazine sale. The "getting acquainted" party, Magazine Sale dance and the Christmas Dance were the high points of the year for them. They showed their eagerness to attend dances and participate in High School activities by making their own parties and activities successful.

Third row; Greg Kipp, Rick Zull, Steve Sharp, Pete Zull, Doug Denton, Lyn Hankey, Bruce Taylor, Fred Crawford.

Coach Klein's eighth grade boys played with great desire, but unfortunately lost some games by very close scores. These boys look forward to being on the freshmen team next year and hope for a successful season.

Coach Fitch led his seventh graders through an undefeated season. The boys showed much enthusiasm and ability and gained alot of experience. They look forward to another successful season next year.

Entertainment Is . . .

. . . chatting around a Roman fountain.

. . . acting up and not being reprimanded for it.

. . . hootenannies during Homecoming.

... two sobbing cheerleaders.

... a face full of pie.

Entertainment is vital to any high school. Developing a students social graces and poise is important as developing a students mind. Informal dances, formal dances, plays and concerts helped to contribute to the memories of each student. Whether a participant or an observer all of these events were considered very worthwhile.

HOMECOMING

. . . guarding the Redskin's teepee.

The announcement of the 1967 Homecoming Queen and her court, Friday, September 23, initiated the beginning of the Homecoming festivities. The following week many students from the various classes and organizations, gathered at the fairgrounds to work on their floats. Thursday, September 29, each class battled for a victory in the tug-of-war, of which the sophomores won.

On the afternoon of Friday, September 30, students reported to their classes "dressed down," and later attended a hootenanny and pep assembly in the gymnasium. The Upper Two Thirds provided a special entertainment.

Friday night the queen and her court and all the various floats, formed a parade which slowly proceeded to the Athletic Field, where the Redskins were up against Three Rivers. Here the floats were judged and the juniors were victorious. After the Redskins tromped Three Rivers, the cheerleaders sponsored a sock-hop in the gym.

The following night, Saturday, October 1, a semi-formal dance for the presentation of the queen and her court was held, and Ellen Eckloff was crowned 1967 Homecoming Queen.

"FLIGHT INTO DANGER"

Senior Play

"YEA TEAM!"

The seniors met a challenge when they gave an outstanding performance of "Flight Into Danger," a tense drama about how persons reacted when the passengers and the crew of an airliner were stricken with food poisoning. Definitely not the easiest type of a play to produce, "Flight Into Danger" made a hit with the audience. While there were many tense scenes there was an ample number of situations which brought laughter.

COUPLES ENJOY REFRESHMENTS around a "sweetheart tree."

TWO "SWEETHEARTS" UNDER the tree, Carol Soebbing and Nancy Rushford.

SWEETHEART TREES WERE the centerpiece for every table.

The Girl's Athletic Association presented the "Sweetheart Ball" for their 1967 formal on February eleventh. The decorations carried through the theme by using sweetheart trees and hearts on the walls. The music was provided by the Presidentials and refreshments were served by eighth grade girls. Committee Chairmen were as follows: Decorations; Joyce Lortz and Nancy Rushford, Refreshments; Donna LaPointe and Jan Mumaw, Programs; Marilyn Gard and Peggy Laupp, Tickets; Judy Allen and Martha Chapman, Band; Anne Clee.

IT TAKES ALOT of hearts to cover this high, but it also takes alot of "guts" to get this high.

FINAL CURTAIN CALL meant the end of a great time.

KITTY AND JACK profess their love.

The Class of 1967 presented the world-famous farce which has moved millions to tears of laughter. Jack Chesney, who was violently in love with Kitty Verdun, and Charles, equally enamoured of Miss Spettigue, invited the young ladies to their rooms for luncheon—in order to meet Charley's wealthy aunt from Brazil. But alas, the millionaire aunt sent word that she would have to defer her visit for a few days. What was to be done? The dear young things could not be compromised—no never!—but neither would the youths give up the opportunity of declaring their love. The problem was solved by forcing another Oxford undergraduate into a black satin skirt, a lace fichu, a pair of mitts, an old-fashioned cap and wig. As Charley's Aunt then, this old frump was introduced to the sweethearts, to Jack's father (who was advised by the son to marry her millions), and to Stephen Spettigue, Miss Spettigue's guardian. The sweethearts hugged and kissed Charley's dear old aunt; the two men made love to her. Then the real aunt turned up, assumed another name. In the comic confusion which resulted, young Lord Babberley, posing as the aunt, tricked Stephen Spettigue into agreeing to the marriage of his ward to Charley, the real aunt married Jack's father, Jack got Miss Verdun, and "Charley's Aunt" regained the fortune he lost at gambling and obtained the hand of the girl he loved.

"THE ESCORTS" WERE a familiar sight at sock hops.

DANCE . . .

Informal dances were held during the year, sponsored by various organizations. The type of dance was left up to the group sponsoring it. Sock hops, disc jockeys, and bands were some of the various reasons dances were so popular. Whether the dances were in the gym or the cafeteria, all of them were well attended and enjoyed by all.

Organizations are vital to school life since they provide various areas in which a student may broaden his knowledge. By participating in these extra-curricular activities, the student may show himself to be a leader or else gain deserved recognition. By providing a relaxed atmosphere for learning new material, organizations help a student to grow in his high school years.

PRESIDENT, GARY BARBER and secretary, Rory Russell, stand with Co-op Club sponsor, Mr. Strough.

Co-op Club

Co-operative training has placed many Marshall High School students in part time jobs in the Marshall area. This gave the students on-the-job training as well as teaching them to work with other people and to accept responsibility. The climax of the year was the Co-op Banquet held in the spring for senior members of the Co-op Club. Money was raised for the banquet by sponsoring dances and paying club dues.

Latin

Club

Highlighted by an authentic Latin-style banquet, the Latin Club participates in various activities throughout the year. The purpose of the club is to stimulate student interest in the Latin language and Roman culture.

French

Club

The objective of the French Club is to provide interested students with opportunities to increase their knowledge of the French language and culture. To achieve this goal, members have attended French movies and plays. Money for these trips was earned by sponsoring bake sales and dances.

BIBLE CLUB OFFICERS and sponsor were Don Jenkins, president; Miss Yochim, sponsor; Marilyn Laupp, secretary-treasurer; Alice Jenkins, vice president.

BIBLE CLUB MEMBERS enjoy singing at their meetings.

Bible

Club

Bible Club is an organization open to students of all faiths. The purpose of the club is to help its members become better Christians as they learn more about the Bible. Weekly meetings brought guest ministers, special films, and special music to the group.

Library

Checking out books, collecting fines, and keeping the library in order are all duties of the members of the library staff. Miss Bullock, the head librarian, with the aid of Mrs. Goodwin decide upon the new books to be purchased to keep the library up to date.

LIBRARY ASSISTANTS WERE Sharon Farmer, Beverly Swan, Gloria Lapham, Sandy Simmons, Sandy Weers, Pat Conley, Sandy Wagner, and Miss Bullock, sponsor.

FHA

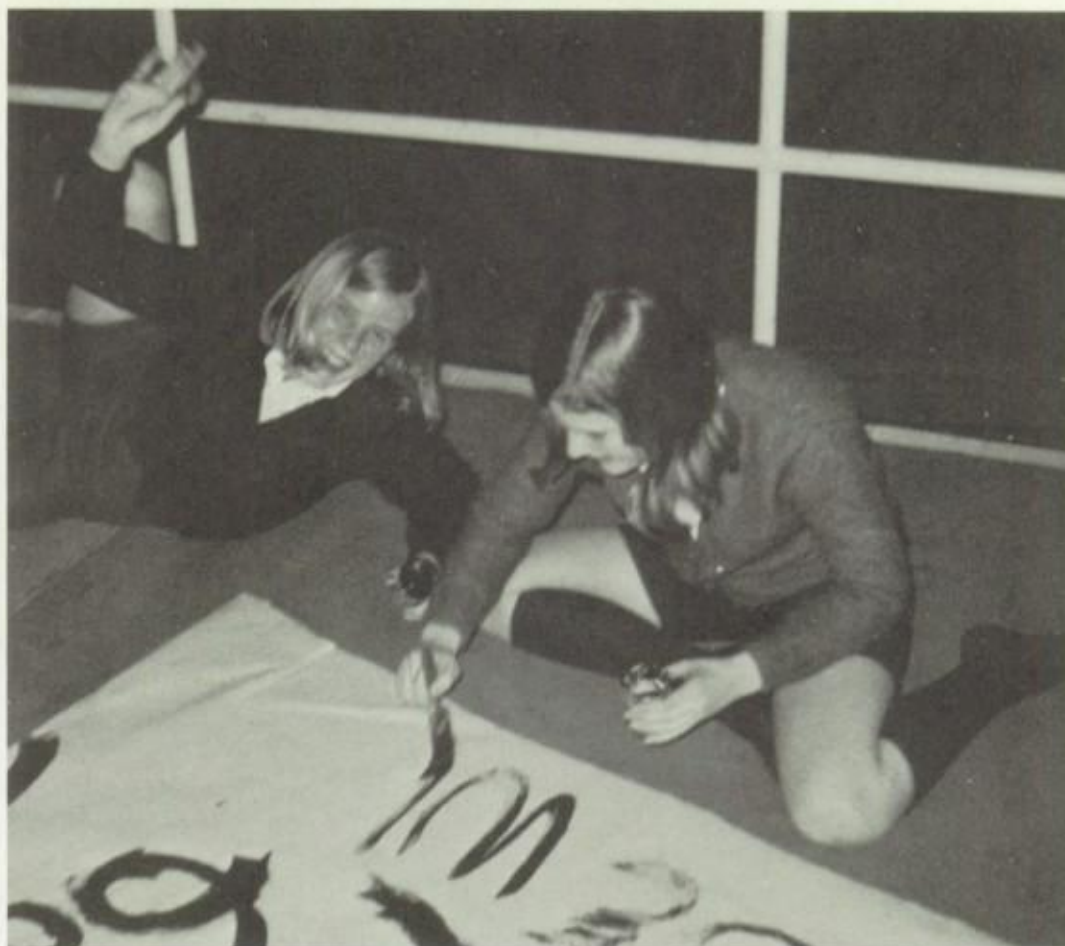

Future Homemakers of America is a national association whose purpose is to provide a better home life in the homes of tomorrow. This organization is composed of girls who are working to promote good will and to help the underprivileged. To be eligible for this club, girls must have completed at least one semester of home-making. Members plan and hold suppers, teas, parent-daughter banquets and project nights.

F.H.A. OFFICERS (standing) Ilene Easler, merit chairman; Mary Casey, secretary; Cheryl Harris, historian; Carlene Burlingame, president; Sue Devenney, reporter; Debbi Coates, parliamentarian; Carol Curren, treasurer. Sponsors were Miss Chappel and Miss Kohlhoff.

Pep

Club

SANDY REDMAN AND Michelle Galloway display their eagerness and abilities.

Organized to promote school spirit at football and basketball, the Pep Club helped keep enthusiasm high all year. Each week posters and bulletin boards pertaining to the game were put up throughout the high school. Club members also decorated the gym with signs for all home games. Miss Smith provided interested and capable leadership which added much to the club's effectiveness.

PEP CLUB OFFICERS were (top), Lois Love, vice president; Karen Hoeltzel, president; Cindy Oren, program chairman; Miss Smith, sponsor. Absent was Michelle Galloway, secretary.

Usher

Club

Each spring several freshman, sophomore, and junior girls are chosen by the faculty for membership in the Usher Club. Basic to their selection were the qualities; reliability, personality, appearance, and character. The girls usher for school concert and play programs, Civic Theater productions, and other civic functions. The girls receive one point for each time they usher. In order to remain eligible for membership, they must earn six points per year.

Political

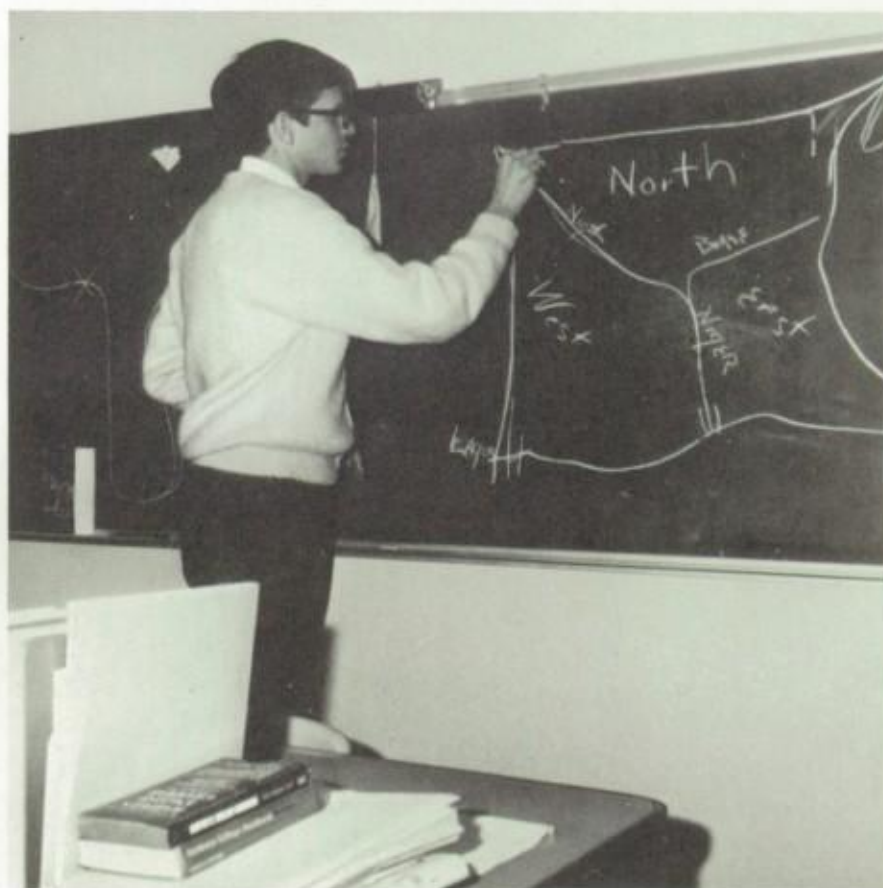

Club

Since 1966 was an election year, the Political Club was unusually active.

Candidates for various offices spoke to the club about past accomplishments and anticipations for the coming term. A school wide assembly was held before the elections in which members of both parties explained their respective platforms. Club members also did canvass work for their parties and conducted the mock elections in November.

Activities for the spring term involved a trip to the State Capitol, the Model U-N at Hillsdale College, and a Freedom Forum at Albion College.

Terry Henry tells the Political Club of his trip to Africa.

Art Club

The Art Club, while encouraging talent and interest in art, undertook several worthwhile projects. Among these were decorating the Children's Ward in the hospital and making posters for other clubs. Decorations for all the formal dances were made by the Art Club. With money earned from these projects, they took a week-end trip to Chicago.

Spanish Club

Spanish Club Sponsor and officers were (left) Mr. Haroff, sponsor; Kathy Moses, treasurer; Willie Ramos, president; and Judy Trapp, vice president.

The Spanish Club's purpose is to provide opportunities for students to explore the Spanish language and culture. Monthly meetings with native Spanish-speaking persons as guests as well as an authentic Spanish Christmas party helped to achieve this goal.

President Willie Ramos conducts a noon hour meeting.

Spanish Club Members certainly seem to enjoy their meetings.

FFA

FFA Members, John Powers, Larry Hazel, and Jim Watt, attended the FFA National Convention.

Future Farmers of America strived to promote student interest in agriculture, encouraging student investigation into efficient farming methods. Members of this association participated in field trips and projects to learn about new developments in farming. A student must be enrolled in agriculture and be accepted by the old membership to become a member of the club and receive benefits from this fine organization.

"THEY NEVER SERVE refreshments at these meetings!"

The Student Council, under the leadership of a new sponsor, Mr. Houston, undertook several new projects along with their usual ones this year. Helping to build a school in Tanzania, an African country, was the first attempt of this nature made by M.H.S. council, but it was a worthy achievement. Planning and coordinating Homecoming week and sponsoring the Holiday Hop kept the council busy, also. Chosen representatives and officers from each class and the officers of the council worked together along with the student body to promote better relations between the students and the faculty and administration.

Learning how to do thorough research, to analyze a problem, and to organize and present material in an interesting and persuasive way are just some of the values of debate. Participants in this activity gain the added benefits of speech training and poise which are the two most important assets of all: discovering two sides to important issues and gaining the ability to think accurately while speaking.

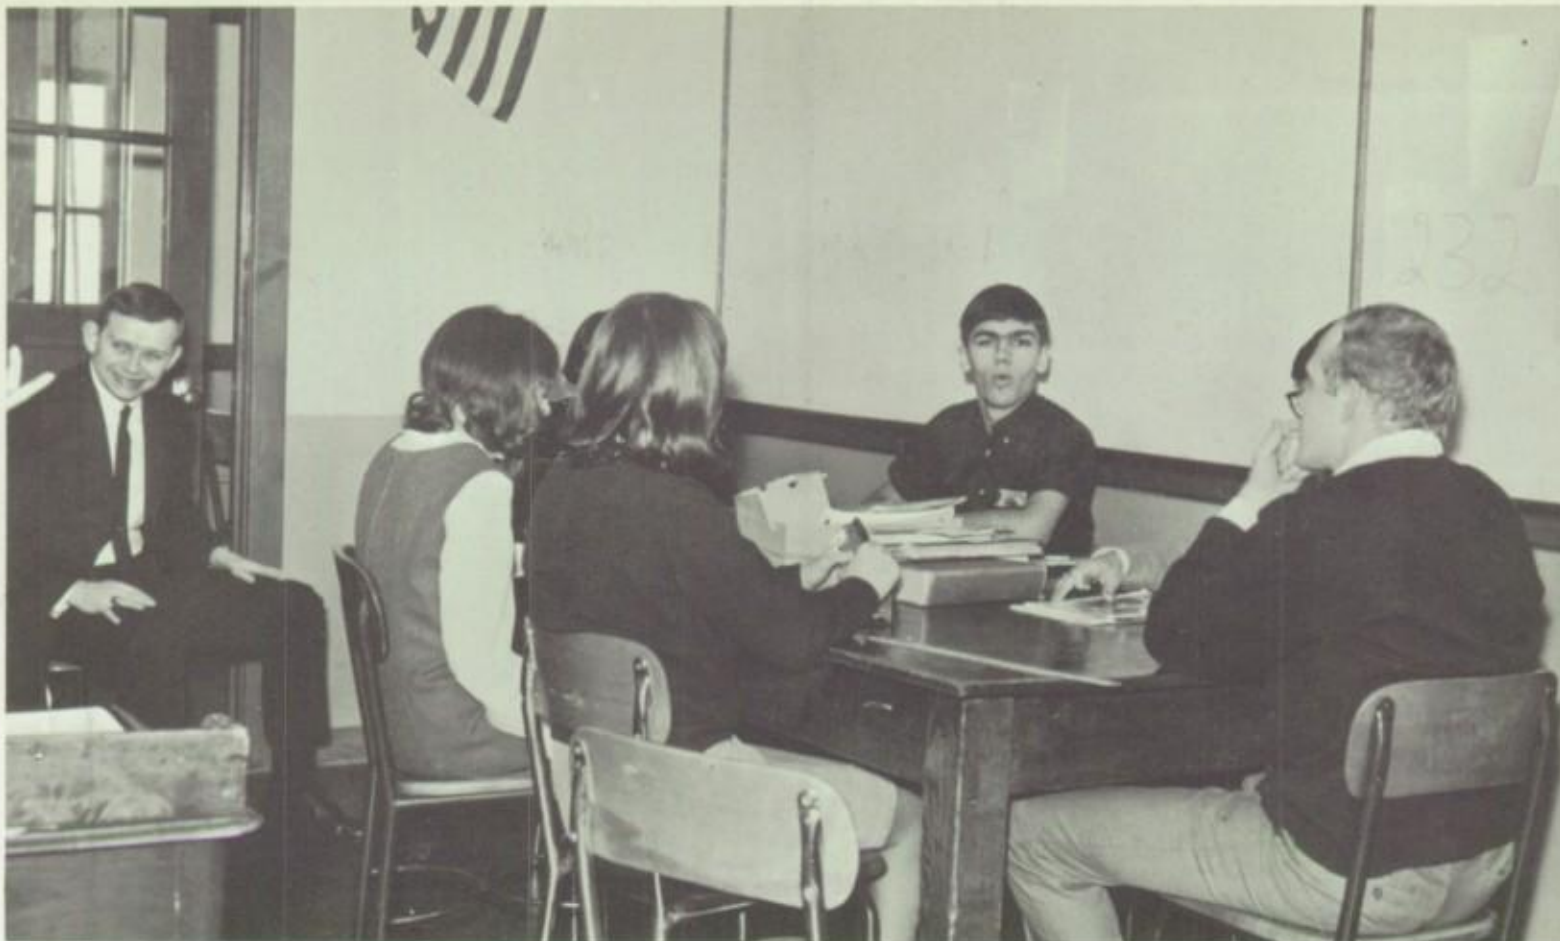

The Marshall debaters have been very successful in using these skills; finishing fourth in the 1966 A-B State tournament and qualifying for the Semi-finals this year. All students participating in debate are given the opportunity to meet opponents from other schools during the year.

Forensics followed debate, taking place during the second semester. Increasing interest in humorous and dramatic reading, extempore speaking, declamation, original oratory, radio commentary, and multiple reading has resulted in a rapidly expanding program.

Highlight Staff

Experimentation was the key word of this year's newspaper staff. In an effort to constantly improve the quality of the Highlight, several changes in format were instituted during the year. During the second semester, the newspaper was published weekly.

"Get to work, staff," said Editor Jeff Albaugh, thoughtlessly.

John Strough, Jim Bosserd, John Schneider, David Reed.

A high honor shared by only a chosen few juniors and seniors each year was to be selected for membership in the National Honor Society. Selection of these students was based on scholarship: only juniors with a B+ and seniors with a B minimum average were eligible for membership. Character, service, and leadership were also considered by the faculty. New members were initiated by the present society at an impressive assembly in March. The society's purpose is to develop an individual fully in each area of his high school life.

Miss Merritt was the sponsor of the local chapter of the National Honor Society.

Business

Managers

The responsibility for financial affairs of the journalism department was undertaken by the business staff this year. John Schneider, head business manager, was in charge of the finances for the three journalism staffs while the advertising portion of Dial and the Highlight were under the direction of Miles Coffman and Jeff Venn respectively.

BUSINESS MANAGERS JEFF Venn, John Schneider and Miles Coffman get their "kicks" looking at a fold-out in—a journalism magazine, of course!

GAA

The Girls Athletic Association is an organization provided for those girls interested in athletics. Such sports as basketball, football, soccer, tumbling, and archery were organized throughout the year to provide the girls with an opportunity to gain points as well as enjoyment. In February they presented the "Sweetheart Ball."

Service Personnel . . . We Thank You!

Supervisor of buildings and grounds; Kirk Neuffer works diligently and happily.

Cafeteria cooks; Bessie Gollmer, Elizabeth Dunn and Joyce Carver.

Without the co-operative help of our faithful cooks, custodians and bus drivers Marshall High School could not operate as it does. Our thanks go out to these people in the service personnel for being so helpful and patient.

Advertising Is . . .

Advertising is the support given to us by the Marshall businessmen who we are very proud of. In giving us financial support, they also gave us moral support by showing their faith in us. We wish to thank them for their patronage and co-operation, not only for the Dial, but for the Highlight as well.

An Age of Decisions

You, the high school students of today, are confronted with more major decisions than any other young people in history. In making them, always remember that if your actions reflect respect for other people, you most likely will be respected in return.

Dial Staff Visualizes

In planning a yearbook the Dial staff tries to visualize the things you will want to remember thirty years from now. This is why we claim that the last page of this book is not "The End"—because we feel that the book will always be looked through again. The 1967 Dial is not the editor's book or the staff's. It belongs to you. For the staff it is not the end because we will go on forever remembering all that it took to produce this book. Without the help of the Marshall merchants, the faculty and administration, Mr. Beller of Beller Studio, Edward's Brothers Publishing Company and the students of M.H.S. the 1967 Dial would not have been possible. So in conclusion we, the staff, would like to say to these people . . .
